Alcoa Rockdale Works President Howard Chisno predicts continued peak production and manpower, and some construction activity in 1966.

Alcoa President John Harbo predicted last week that domestic production of aluminum will increase by about 7 percent and break the record record high of 1965.

"This strong demand for our favorite metal," Chisno said, "has helped us to show our expectations at Rockdale. We anticipate a very active year at the Rockdale Works. We will be planning for every pound of aluminum we can produce at this location. Some construction activity will be going on, part of which will be a continuation from last year and part of which will be new activity during the coming year."

Rockdale's inventory of ingot which two years ago was measured in millions of pounds is now practically non-existent, Chisno said.

Alcoa presently employs 1,160 men and women at the Rockdale plant with six potlines in production. Construction contractor employment averaged 120 for the past several years and Industrial Generating Company employment is at 200.

Construction was fairly heavy last year and Chisno said he expects this to continue in 1966, the most part in areas of replacement and modification of equipment.

He said the tunnel kiln, built several years ago to bake carbon anodes, had been dismantled and the parts of the industrial building which houses the kiln has been used for anode baking furnace. A major construction project, more than 50 railroad cars of brick are being used in building the furnace.

Chisno said they anticipate expanding and rebuilding one of the older anode furnaces early this year.

Total payroll, excluding construction, is the most in the history of the Rockdale plant.

McCharen said filing deadline for the Democratic primary is February 7.

Retiring after 47 years... Mrs. Frank Reid

47 Years At Postoffice Busy Life Awaits Mrs. Reid

Forty seven years is a long term of service, and such a career came to an end December 30 for Mrs. Frank Reid, veteran postal employee.

Planning now to have time to do things she was unable to do before, Mrs. Reid remains an interesting life and a panorama of Cameron people she greeted at Cameron Postoffice (postal) window some 44 years.

She began work in the post office when she graduated from high school here. She graduated in the same class with Albert "Red" Collins, assistant postmaster recently retired, Charlie Nabours and Mollie Burke.

At a Dec. 23 holiday party for postal employees and their wives, Mrs. Reid recalled the anecdote told round the post office that "everything was safe in the post office except something to write with or something to eat."

At the same party, a letter accompanying a postal certificate said in part: "It gives me a great deal of pleasure to present with this letter an honorary recognition certificate in commemoration of your more than 47 years of postal service." And it was signed by Lawrence F. O'Brien, postmaster general.

Mrs. Reid also received a silver tray with congratulations from Cameron postal employees and her name engraved upon it.

"I'm going to enjoy my home and do things I've never had time to do," she said. "We'll be visiting friends, a graduate student in chemistry at the University of Iowa and Rita Reid Hipp a graduate sociology student at Texas Women's University."

"And I'll continue to work in my church, the Cameron First Christian Church, where I teach juniors, and work in the Order of Eastern Star," she said.

In looking back, she finds it is

MOD Workers Told Future Hopeful In Birth Defects Fight

Dr. Raul B. Mascarenhas told March of Dimes workers of projections on how birth defects may be eliminated in the future, when they met at the Texan Monday for the fund drive's kick-off dinner.

Dr. Mascarenhas, now associated with Dr. W. R. Newton and Dr. L. L. Nigiazio in Cameron, was introduced by Max McCharen, 1965 drive chairman.

McCharen announced that Mrs. Griffin Burnett and Mrs. Albert McCullin Jr. will head the Mothers' March, drive date to be decided. Plans for the Teen-Age Program are progressing under the leadership of Bobby Schuler in Cameron and Evelyn Pearson in Rockdale.

Miss Bennett New HD Agent

Miss Carol Ann Bennett has been named Milam County home demonstration agent succeeding Miss Anna Marie Rameke who resigned effective December 31.

Miss Bennett has been assistant HD agent for the past three months. She attended Texas Women's University and graduated from Kansas State University. She taught home economics in Chaplin, Kansas, before moving to Cameron last October.

300 Hear Congressman

Poage Lashes 'Lawlessness'

More than 300 postal employees, a capacity crowd, from the 11th Congressional District Monday night honored Cong. W. R. (Bob) Poage at Methodist Fellowship Hall.

Mrs. W. A. Poage, the congressman's mother, also was honored. She attended though Mrs. Poage, the congressman's wife, was unable to attend.

The veteran Congressman lashed out in a short address on "Lawlessness," in which he said "no man is above the law."

"Who, a few years ago, would have expected to find the campuses of some of our largest, richest and most respected universities developing into complete hotbeds of anarchy?" he asked rhetorically.

"At that California institution (University of California, Berkeley) the first riot seemed to have

"marvelous how much mail we handled and how few pieces were actually lost."

And she recalls the time a clerk years ago brought a box of candy mints to the post office, sprinkled with sulphur, some of which soon were being eaten by two other clerks almost before he set the box down.

Mrs. Reid was a familiar figure at her postal window where she said "general delivery meant covering the general run of postal needs at the window."

Mr. and Mrs. Reid also celebrated their 20th wedding anniversary Wednesday at their East seventh St. home, which they bought some years ago from former assistant postmaster Albert Collins' father.

There, they make their home, which Mrs. Reid will enjoy the more for the time she now has to devote to a full life.

MILAM VOTERS BEING ADVISED TO BUY THEM

County tax assessor-collector officials Wednesday said they are advising milam voters to pay their poll tax though the question of poll tax legality still resides in the courts.

County deputies told The Herald that 547 poll taxes had been paid, while the amount anticipated was out is about 5,000.

Ballot receipt books are located in substations in both Rockdale and Rockdale as well as the crop courthouse offices.

County Secretary Rusty Fuller announced that candidate Lester Tucker had announced for reelection, the first candidate to file since the 1964 year's election polls and the mayor's post are up for election in April.

By Wednesday morning, 132 had registered for city poll taxes, Fuller reported.

Registration in the city approaches 900 in a heavy election year, Fuller noted. In the 1964 mayoral contest, about 1200 people voted and registration was about 550.

On New Survey

Of Town Assets

A new and current community development survey is nearing completion by the staff of Cameron Chamber of Commerce.

In 1959 through the cooperation of the Texas Power & Light Co., the first detailed survey was made. The survey serves as an official source of important information on the community and is used by the Chamber industrial committee, visiting industrial prospects, industrial departments who assist Cameron in seeking industry, and general information for projects and activities for the town.

"At a glance, we are able to point out the financial conditions, population trends, services of utilities, railroads, freight companies, all transportation facilities, recreational facilities, tax structures and many other insights into the community for the past 10 to 15 years," Forrest Sapp, president of the Chamber said.

He went on to say that this information must be kept current and available in order to present any details to persons interested in investing in the future of Cameron.

The survey is expected to be completed by February. Anyone interested in viewing the survey is invited to contact the Cameron Chamber office.

Grand Ole Opry

At Church Fete

A church benefit show will be presented Monday, January 17, by several stars of "Grand Ole Opry" at Milano High School Gym.

Shows will be at 7 and 9 p.m. and will feature Kitty Wells, Johnny Wright and the "Tennessee Mountain Boys" and Bill Phillips, among others.

This is another in a series of benefit programs put on by western singing stars for the Milano Methodist Church.

Miss Wells, voted "Queen of Country Music," is the wife of John Wright, who leads the "Ten-

Civil War Home Occupied Today

Recognize this early Cameron residence? Built sometime in 1861, the stately structure still stands, now as the center portion of Glass the Florist's retail building.

The house, now facing US 77 at 5th and Travis Sts., originally faced south on the same block. It was built by W. B. Streetman on the property (Block 6, Freeman Addition) purchased Feb. 19, 1861, from M. L. Faulkner and wife.

The Streetman's yard was noted for its carefully trimmed evergreen trees. John Henderson Sr., historian for The Herald series on early homes, said Mr. Streetman kept a fine garden and berry patch and the fence around the berry patch was low enough so that long legged boys could step over it to eat the berries and large Japanese persimmons which were Mr. Streetman's pride.

Mr. Streetman operated a general mercantile business in the building where Culpepper Furniture store is now located. His wife, the former Miss Lou Green, was the daughter of a Milam County pioneer, George Green, who was a settler of the name of San Jacinto.

The Streetmans had three children, Mrs. Floretta Streetman (nicknamed Mrs. F. Streetman), Dr. Willard Streetman, a dentist who moved from Cameron to Cleburne, and Judge Sam Streetman, a prominent Cameron lawyer who later moved to Houston where he was a judge of the Civil Appeals Court and organizer of one of Houston's most prominent law firms.

Following Mr. Streetman's death in 1903, Mrs. Streetman continued to live in the house with her granddaughter, Mrs. Fannie Lou Brown and her husband, R. D. Brown, until her death in 1918.

Dr. Monroe Sapp bought the house and entire block following Mrs. Streetman's death and lived there with his family. After Dr. Sapp's death the house was sold in 1943 to Glass the Florist and was moved to the northwest portion of the block.

Mrs. Ejems, Mrs. Lindemann and Miss Urban wore street-length gowns of pink brocade and carried bouquets of white carnations with pink streamers. Miss Mayer and Misses Margaret and Frances Susik wore street-length gowns of blue brocade and carried white carnations with blue streamers. Their headpieces were bows of matching brocade over net. Carolyn Lindemann of Cameron was flower girl and Jerry Susik of Bay City was ring bearer.

Allen Zimma of Ft. Hood was best man. Groomsmen were Joe Mayer of Cameron, a cousin of the groom, Lester Livance, cousin of the bride from Brazoria, Paul Collage of Bay City, Ray Lindemann, brother-in-law of the bride, and Ray Urban, cousin of the bride, both of Cameron. A reception was held following the ceremony at Simon-George Hall. Registering guests were Kathy Ejems, niece of the bride, of Cameron, and Helen Susik, the groom's sister, from Bay City. Cong. Poage Asks Re-Election For 15th Term In Washington

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE ELEVENTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

For the 15th time it is my privilege to ask my friends of the six counties comprising the historic 11th Congressional District of Texas for re-election to the Congress of the United States.

It has been a great privilege to represent what I believe to be the finest congressional district in the United States. It has been a wonderful experience to work with the best people any Congressman could be asked to represent. I have sought sincerely to represent your interests and your welfare. I hope that I have been able to do so in an acceptable manner.

Unless the Federal Courts decree otherwise, the 11th District will in the future include eleven counties. I welcome the opportunity to widen the scope of my service and I look forward to making fine new friends in the five counties which are coming into this district for the first time. I would not, however, want to in anywise weaken the ties of friendship or of service that have developed between me and the people I have so long represented.

You are in a position to fairly judge whether I have been an effective and honest Representative. If you feel that I have, I will appreciate your support in the future.

Experience is important in any phase of life. In Congress experience is called "seniority" and it plays a vital part in increasing a Congressman's opportunity to serve the people in his district. There are at the present time only ten Members of the House with greater seniority than I, and it is entirely probable that in the event of my re-election there will be even fewer at the next Congress. I believe that this experience or "seniority" is valuable to the people of Central Texas.

If I am privileged to serve you in the future, I shall, as I have in the past, try to judge each issue and each vote as I see the interests of my country, my State, and the people of the great district I represent.

I am, therefore, today announcing my candidacy for re-election, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary, and I am filing the statutory applications in each of the eleven counties of the district, as created by the Legislature of Texas.

Naturally, like every other candidate, I would hope to make this race unopposed. Our primary campaign comes at a time when it is important for our Representatives to be working at other things but should I have an opponent, I shall expect to spend as much time as possible in the District and to discuss any issues frankly and openly. I will need, and I invite, the active cooperation and work of my friends through out all parts of the district. In the meantime, I sincerely solicit your favorable consideration and your vote for my re-election.

Maddox Seeks Democratic Nomination For Co. Treasurer

Charlie J. (Bubba) Maddox, 46, of Cameron, has filed with Democratic Chairman Max McClaren as a candidate for the office of Milam County Treasurer. (Primaries will be in May).

Mrs. Ida Johns, treasurer for the past 14 years, announced earlier she will retire when her term expires in January, 1967. She said she will endorse Maddox in his campaign.

A lifelong resident of Milam County, Maddox was born in Ben Arnold. He graduated from Yoe High School, Cameron. He also attended college two and one half years with semesters at A&M University and Blinn College.

Mr. Maddox is married to the former Mary Jo Fikes and they have one son, Charles, 16 years old. They attend and are members of the First Presbyterian Church, Cameron.

Bubba's only absence from Milam County, other than the time he attended school, was from February 1942 to May 1947. During this time he served with the 43rd Division in the South Pacific where he lost a leg in combat service. Since this is his first venture into politics, Maddox thought it would be a good idea to have a campaign manager. The decision was a tough one so his wife Mary Jo, and Charles will split the duties.

The combination seems to be going well for the husband-father candidate. "We're going to carry this campaign to every part of the county," they said.

Maddox is already well-known throughout the county. He is distributor for several area newspapers and he quite often "throws" his son's paper route when the younger Maddox is involved in sports at Yoe High.

Avid fishermen from near and far have at least heard of Bubba's uncanny skill at luring a "big cat" to bait whether in Little River, Elm Creek or over at Alcoa Lake.

A 17-year old hobby of making new knives and repairing old ones has made the Maddox name a familiar standard in a good many homes in every nook and cranny from Rockdale to Buckholts.

And then, there is baseball! Maddox has coached or helped with a hardball team in Cameron (Little League type) since 1956.

"I'm a baseball widow," Mrs. Maddox laughs.

Besides his projected interest in baseball for boys, Maddox is a member of Cameron Quarterback Club.

"I tell I am qualified to handle the office of County Treasurer," Maddox said. "I like working with and for the people of Milam County and I have the necessary background for the work."

"I plan and hope to see everyone personally during this campaign to ask for their vote and their support," Maddox said.

"If I don't see each of you, I will appreciate your help," he said.

Rep. Schiller Asks Third Term In State Legislature

State Representative Milton J. Schiller of Cameron announced this week that he is a candidate for re-election to the office of Representative for District 27 - Falls, Milam and Robertson Counties - in the Democratic primary to be held on May 7, 1966.

At present he is midway through his second term, having been elected in 1962 and in 1964 as Representative for the old 45th District which he explained, when he noticed Rep. Schiller was trying not to smile, and asked what was the matter.

"Nothing. Only I had to resign from the school board in Cameron so I could be sworn in as Representative down here," Schiller told him.

"You mean you were a member of a school board?" the veteran asked. "And you got elected?"

When Schiller said that was right the old pro just shook his head as if it was hard to believe.

He must have found it a little hard to believe also when, a few weeks later at the start of the legislative session, then speaker Byrre Tunnell announced his committee assignments and named Schiller as a member of the appropriations committee. First term House members seldom are appointed to Appropriations, but Tunnell apparently decided that he rated the spot because of his business background.

Primary election night back in May, 1962, also was a little different for Schiller than for most of the candidates making their first race for a seat in the Legislature.

When he arrived home late -- he had remained at the courthouse to get the final election returns -- he found a number of his neighbors and friends had dropped in and a victory party was under way. And the phone was ringing constantly. Schiller had defeated the dean of the House of Representatives who had been a member for 18 years and was trying for 20, and the news services had picked up the story. One of the phone calls was from Governor-Elect John Connally with congratulations.

Rep. Schiller was born in 1917 on a Bell County farm owned by his father in the New Colony community two miles from the Milam Co. line. He is the youngest child of Joe S. Schiller and Emily Haider Schiller, pioneer residents of the area. He was married in Franklin, Texas, February 7, 1937, to the former Miss Vivian Donaho. Her father, W. T. Donaho, a retired Texas School teacher, served several years as the superintendent of the Rosebud schools.

The Schillers are parents of three daughters -- Linda, 24, Peggy, 20, and Nancy, 17. Serving as State Representative and campaigning is a family affair with the Schillers.

Before entering business in Cameron, Rep. Schiller held a responsible position with a large retail firm. Also, for several years he was employed as a locomotive fireman for the Missouri Pacific Railroad, and was active in the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers organizations. He served three terms as a member of the City Council in Cameron, and for three years was a member and President of the Cameron Independent School District Board of Education, resigning to become State Representative. He is a past President of the Chamber of Commerce, and in 1953 served as State Vice-President of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce.

During his two terms Rep. Schiller has served on the most important committees in the House of Representatives.

He has co-sponsored a number of bills that became law -- and authored several other bills, among which is H.B. 43, known as the Airport Aid Bill for small cities. The bill, passed and signed into law last summer, is intended to help small cities and towns with loans for improvement or construction of local airports. Of the $200,000 which was authorized by the bill, three of the cities in Rep. Schiller's district have been granted $22,000 and Marlin at present is having its application considered for funds to improve its airport. The Representative believes this will be helpful in attracting industry into this part of Texas.

Rep. Schiller also has made several trips during his terms to attend meetings or investigations concerned with legislation. The most recent of these was when at Speaker Ben Barnes' request he went to New Orleans to attend the Southern Water Resources Conference sponsored by the "Council of State Governments," and dealing with the growing problem of water conservation.

And on December 22, 1965, he was appointed by Speaker Barnes to the Interim Committee to study laws pertaining to agriculture. When making the appointment Barnes paid tribute to Schiller for his outstanding abilities and said he had the background to do a very effective job as a member of the committee.

Rep. Schiller has become widely known in Central Texas through his participation in public and civic affairs. He has worked closely with industrial foundations and other groups in his district helping to secure industry in this area. In 1964, Rep. Schiller was given the Distinguished Service Award to Legislators by the Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association of Texas in appreciation of his work with this organization and other farm groups. He is a member of the Rotary Club, Chamber of Commerce, farm organizations, and several other civic and fraternal groups. As a Representative he is a tireless worker and dedicated to his duties, and with a talent for getting along with other members of the House. He is a representative of all the people of his district and does not hesitate to state his views or take a positive stand on the issues.

Rep. Schiller stated when announcing that he will make an active campaign for re-election, and he welcomes any suggestions from the people in his district.

"It has been a pleasure to serve the people of Burleson, Milam and Robertson Counties, for which I am very thankful, and I am looking forward to serving and working with the good people of Falls County. With the loss of rural strength in the Legislature by the forced redistricting, it is now more important than ever to send to the Legislature mature men who live in the district and know the problems of rural and small town people," Schiller stated.

Road Deaths Not News?

A Conversation with Highway Patrolman Durwood Kennedy the other day pointed up the relative problems of getting Texans and the rest of the country aware of how fast they kill each other on the highway.

This was one day at the barbershop following the Christmas weekend.

Seems that news headlines rave about the death of one or two persons in a plane crash, let alone the bold headlines when an airline goes down.

But when about half the number of Americans were killed over that holiday weekend that up to that time had died in Vietnam, it seems to rouse little interest.

Yet, it proves the auto, improperly driven, is more lethal than the business end of one of those M-16 rifles. And we take it for granted.

There is the possible attitude that highway attrition will finally balance the birth rate, but it difficult to assume this attitude in the light of the American ethic.

The only answer, like most everything else, is bucking up and driving straight, not only for oneself, but for the other guy.

Harper Predicts New Highs For 5th Year In Aluminum

PITTSBURGH, Pa. Aluminum industry product innovations and the impetus of a strong national economy will push production and shipments in 1966 to record highs for the fifth straight year, Pres. John D. Harper of Aluminum Company of America, has predicted.

In a year-end statement, Alcoa's chief executive officer said also that the company will further consolidate its membership in the corporate "billion dollar club" - a distinction it achieved in 1964 as an industry "first" when net sales and operating revenues exceeded this total.

Because rising tonnages of aluminum are streaming into new volume uses in such applications as containers and packaging, building and construction products, railroad freight cars and mass transit vehicles, and lightweight, mobile military equipment, Harper anticipates:

"Domestic production of aluminum to increase in 1966 by about seven per cent, to more than 2.9 million tons. The 1965 all-time record should exceed 2.7 million tons.

"Net shipments of aluminum ingot and mill products will approximate 4.3 million tons next year, in contrast to estimated 1965 shipments (primary, secondary and imported metal) of 4 million tons.

"Alcoa and the aluminum industry in general," Harper said, "made substantial progress in 1965 toward building a solid base for future growth. Opportunities for the metal's increased use abound throughout the Free World. Supply and demand are in reasonable balance. Aggressive market development programs are well along. Price weaknesses born of excess capacity are waning."

"What is needed to enhance aluminum industry growth in all its segments is a favorable environment," Alcoa's president said.

"By this, I mean reasonable world political stability and economic progress. There also must be enlightened planning to insure an adequate metal supply for expanding markets. But such planning must be geared realistically to prospective demand, Harper continued.

As illustrations of Alcoa's emphasis on research, development and marketing, Alcoa's president noted the company is proceeding with construction of new buildings constituting a second phase of its $30 million technical center near Pittsburgh.

Health Center Plan

Open For Review

At Austin Office

The initial state plan for construction of community mental health centers has been prepared and is available for review by interested persons in the State Health Department's Division of Mental Services.

The document will be available

8th MOD Flight

Scheduled Jan. 9

For Cen-Tex Pilots

Flying will be cheap in Waco Sunday, Jan. 9, and again on Jan. 22. On those two days Central Texas pilots, in private aircraft, will take to the skies in the eighth annual March of Dimes Airlift.

Airlifts on both days will start at 9 a.m. and continue until the last passengers have taken rides. Price of the flights around Waco will be a penny a pound, with charter flights and sight-seeing trips to area attractions slightly higher. In case of bad weather, the first airlift will be rescheduled for Jan. 16. Should the weather be bad on the 23rd, that one will be held on the 30th.

Twenty-six pilots and 18 planes have been signed up. Pilots not flying will act as loaders to insure safe, comfortable rides. All money collected will go to the March of Dimes - pilots are giving their time, owners are donating their planes and the Mobil Oil Co. is supplying fuel.

to the public during the period of January 4 through February 4. Dr. J. E. Penry, State Health Commissioner has announced.

Prior to preparing the State plan, an extensive survey was made of mental health facilities in Texas. When results were tabulated, the State was delineated into service areas and a priority system was established to determine relative need.

The State plan outlines the development of the community mental health center construction program and the minimum standards of operation and maintenance.

Demos Struggle For Party Lead

By Vern Shanford

AUSTIN

One of the big sleeper battles on the Texas political scene during 1966 will be for control of the state Democratic party machinery.

Some observers think this brewing struggle is behind the fuss between U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough and Gov. John Connally. Few think Yarborough has any intention of running against Connally for governor, as some have suggested.

But there is every reason to believe that Yarborough will be the key figure in any all-out liberal Democratic effort to wrest control of the State party committee from hands of the governor's friends.

Shifting population patterns and legislative redistricting tend to shorten long odds against a liberal victory in this year's conventions. Half the 6,000-plus delegates to the September state Democratic convention will come from 12 major counties where liberals are gathering strength.

Furthermore, the big counties will have more members on state party committees. This because of the Senate redistricting act, which adds senatorial representation in Bexar, Dallas and Harris Counties.

A personality clash at the top leadership level is necessary to whip up enthusiasm for convention warfare. The feud between Connally and Yarborough most likely will provide the spark that sets off the 1966 version of a familiar state Democratic fight.

States are high, for not only is the party committee an effective power base but a powerful instrument in the process by which delegates are selected to the future (1968) presidential nominating convention.

Not since the administration of Coke Stevenson has a Texas governor lost control of the state Democratic party machinery.

BIG SAVINGS AIDED
State Finance Commission has adopted new regulations, effective January 1. Rules allow higher interest to depositors with big savings accounts and an interest break for late depositors in Texas chartered savings and loan associations.

Old rules required uniform interest rates for all savings accounts in the associations. This new variable interest order, still partially subject to approval by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, is aimed at placing the state - chartered savings associations in a better competitive position with banks and federally-chartered savings associations.

One provision would allow "time account certificates" for investors who will keep $1,000 or more in savings for at least a year.

Other regulations would provide for paying a full month's dividend on money deposited by the 20th of the month instead of the 10th and for a full month's dividends on money withdrawn during the last three business days of a dividend period.

Under state regulation, associations have no ceiling on the dividends they may vote. However, interest returns have been running about 4-1/4 to 4-1/2 per cent.

Federal regulations adopted in December have boosted allowed dividends up to 5-1/2 per cent on time deposits.

GIANT PARKS PLAN

Most extensive state parks and recreation plan in Texas history may be submitted to the Legislature next year, says Governor Connally.

He may ask the lawmakers to approve a $25,000,000 to $50,000,000 land purchase program for parks during the next biennium. Total budget for parks this biennium is only $5,400,000. However, that is more than has been spent on the system for the past 10 years.

In mid-December Connally said he will tour the state during 1966 discussing needs and plans—including an "expansive and ambitious" parks - recreation development.

State Parks and Wildlife Department announced recently that additional facilities are being planned for all types of outdoor recreation including boating, fishing, water skiing, canoeing, swimming, sailing, bicycling, sightseeing, horseback riding, golf, hunting, "rock bounding" and nature study.

CONNALLY APPOINTS

Governor Connally has appointed A. L. Dear, executive vice president and general manager of the Palestine Savings and Loan Association, as a member of the Upper Neches Municipal Water Authority.

Dear, 54, succeeds Eugene Fish of Palestine, for a term expiring Jan. 1, 1971. Fish was one of the men who pushed Lake Palestine to a reality, but died before it could be completed.

REGISTER BOATS SOON

More than 200,000 motorboats are subject to registration by April 1 under Texas' new Water Safety Act, so warns State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer.

Present certificates expire on March 31.

New law authorizes the motor vehicle division of the Texas Highway Department to issue certificates for boats operating in state waters. Some division handles license and title procedures for autos.

Renewal notices covering boats already registered now are being mailed out, along with a brochure outlining the Water Safety Act. Under its provisions, state game wardens now have full authority, for the first time, to enforce water safety statutes.

New registrations will cover a two-year period. Fees range from $3 for boats less than 16 feet long, to $12 for those 30 feet and larger. Safety equipment requirements include lighting, horns, bells, fire extinguishers and flame arrestors. Also required are rear view mirrors on boats towing skiers.

BUILDING GAINS

November building throughout Texas increased seven per cent, despite a traditional decline during the 11th month.

A report from the UT Bureau of Business Research also shows total construction for the month came to $133,631,000, a figure exceeded only during August and in November, 1964. Texas building during 1965 did not set a record. Record belongs to 1964.

U.S. Department of Commerce sees a nationwide 11 per cent increase in non-residential building for 1966, but only a "small advance" in private housing construction.

COUNTIES ATTACK PROBLEMS

Texas counties now may get busy planning to solve their complex problems on a regional scale with state and federal aid.

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr paved the way with an opinion saying the State Health Department is authorized by a 1961 act to "arrange planning assistance" when counties request it.

Cities and counties may pool problems and resources in a broad planning program under an act passed last spring.

Health Department has served as the administering agency for small cities in the past, and will continue this function. Federal

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Philosopher Sees Real Danger In Politicians' Voter - Answer Machine

Dear editor:

According to an article I read in a copy of a newspaper which was used for packing in a box of cups and saucers somebody sent here during the holidays—if people were more thoughtful they'd use a bigger variety of newspapers for such purposes and not tear them up into shreds—at any rate, according to it, the Democrats now have and the Republicans are planning on getting one of those huge computing and electronic-brain machines which they use for answering mail.

As I understand it, the machine can memorize the names, including first names and nicknames, addresses and various bits of information about millions of individuals.

A Congressman just hands the machine a list of all his constituents with all the details about each one he has found out about. Then when he wants to write them a letter, explaining why he voted for or against something, or was opposed to a pay raise but was overruled by the majority, or wanting to know how they feel about some pending bill all he has to do is write the letter and hand it to the machine, which in turn writes the same letter to everyone of them, each one addressed individually and by nickname if desired, with little personal touches thrown in, and then signs them all and addresses the envelopes.

Now I have been thinking about this and while it sounds like real progress and a great time-saver, I believe those boys ought to be careful.

After getting prompt and efficient mail service from this machine, some voter may get the notion it could have other uses. If it can answer the Congressman's mail, why can't it receive it, too? Instead of Congressmen having a machine to write to the voters, why couldn't the voters have a machine to write to instead of a Congressman?

If it can learn every voter in the district by his first name, answer 10,000 letters an hour, and digest the views of a million people in 30 minutes and vote accordingly, all it would have to do is learn how to shake hands, and where would that leave the Congressman?

This thing has vast and explosive possibilities and if I was a Congressman, I'd get that machine surrounded with enough entangling legislation to keep its use from getting too widespread.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

TAKE YOUR PROBLEMS TO CHURCH THIS WEEK

Millions Leave Them There!

WHAT'S WRONG HERE?

A charming picture of a lovely little girl reaching for a Bible. What could possibly be wrong with that?

Here's what!

1. The Bible is on the bottom shelf, hard to get at, which means the family doesn't use it frequently.

2. The Bible she's reaching for is written in grown-up language, too hard for her to understand all by herself.

3. The little girl is alone—and she needs help!

Why should the Bible be on the bottom shelf, and why should this little girl have to seek its truth by herself?

The Church stands ready to help your child—and you! It will help you to understand the Bible and its timeless message of God's undiscourgeable love for you, your children and all mankind.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to Bible daily.

Farm Tax Guide
Is Now Available

By J. D. Moore

The Farmers Tax Guide will assist you in preparing and filing your 1965 Federal Income Tax. Pertinent provisions of the tax law are explained as simply as possible, with examples to illustrate how farming transactions are treated for federal tax purposes. Matters which normally occur in farming are covered in this booklet, and it should provide answers to most questions and problems you may have in preparing your tax returns.

Good records are essential to the preparation of your tax return. Having adequate records available will also save valuable time if your return is selected for audit. While no particular system of record keeping is required, it is advisable to keep current records of all transactions involving income expenditures, exchanges, etc., and to retain sales slips, receipts, invoices, canceled checks and other documents providing evidence of the nature and dollar amount of transactions.

You may have a copy of the tax guide by dropping by the county extension office or request a copy by mail.

TAX SCHOOL. For those interested in learning more about making tax returns, a one night school will be held in Rockdale on the night of January 20, 1966. Be sure and mark your calendar for this meeting. A Farm Management Specialist will discuss farm reporting. It is planned to have a local tax consultant discuss personal income tax reporting.

ADJUST TAXES BEFORE 1966

Texas farmers can adjust their income taxes up or down, provided they take action before the end of the year, advises agricultural economists at Texas A&M University. Expense deductions can be increased by buying next year's fertilizer, new equipment and feed or by having equipment overhauled before December 31. He can also hold up the sale of crops until after Jan. 1. Local county agents have available copies of the 1966 edition of the "Farmer's Tax Guide" which the economists say should be must reading for every farmer.

Dr. Clifford Hobbs started to work at A&M on December 1, as an Extension Plant Pathologist. He will work with Dr. Wendell Horne, Extension Plant Pathologist. Dr. Hobbs has done extensive work in the field of stem rust control on wheat, but he has also been keenly interested in other field crop diseases.

RUST IN WHEAT

Frank Kratochvil, who farms north of Cameron, reported disease trouble in his Caddo wheat last week. Specimens were sent to the Extension Pathology Lab for diagnosis. Excessive rank growth has also been reported. The excessive growth accompanied by high humidity is conducive to disease conditions.

Possible New Uses
For Castorbeans In New Urethane Foam

COLLEGE STATION — The oil derived from castorbeans has a lot of uses other than for small boy ailments. And still another may be in the making.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has contracted with the Archer - Daniels - Midland Company, Minneapolis, to do research on converting laboratory results on castor oil - based urethane foams into commercial processes.

Agricultural research service scientists have learned from basic studies that castor oil and its derivatives can be introduced into high performance urethane foams at low cost. Samples of rigid castor-based foams meet standards of strength, insulating ability, and resistance to fire equal to those of the best commercial foams.

Rigid urethane foams are widely used in home and commercial refrigerators and freezers and in refrigerated storage facilities. Estimates indicate that uses for insulation and strength in precast concrete walls, roofs, and floors of buildings and in the construction of refrigerated ships, rail cars and trucks may reach 150 million pounds within the next 5 years—about 3 times the current use for such purposes.

Castorbean production continues to gain favor as a substitute for crops now grown in surplus quantities. It is well adapted to the Southwestern States. Chemically, castor oil has a major advantage in its unique fatty acid composition, nine-tenths of the oil consists of ricinoleic acid. It does not compete with food oils.

Present industrial uses are in polyurethanes, lubricants, plasticizers, surface coatings, hydraulic fluids, pharmaceuticals, cosmetics, and other specialty products. Increased use in foams would extend the market for castor seed oil.

Instead of heating their swimming pools, Arizonans install cooling equipment.

A building the size of the capitol of Austin could be seen on the moon with a large telescope.

In Virginia a town called Northwest is in the extreme southeast corner of the state.

Hide of the boa constrictor, a South American snake, is used for making shoes.

Good Hog Prices For 1966

COLLEGE STATION

Supply and demand still works in the market place, John G. McHaney, extension economist at Texas A&M University, says the present situation with hogs is a good example.

The very favorable hog prices are a result, he says, of smaller supplies, a continuing strong demand by consumers and higher prices for other red meats.

And what's ahead? McHaney says the June to November 1966 hog crop which will provide most of the hog slaughter supplies for the first half of 1966 is probably down 7 to 8 per cent from a year earlier, and that supplies may be further curtailed by the winnowing by producers of sows and gilts for breeding during the early part of 1966.

The price outlook for the first half of 1966 calls for prices to average above those for the same period and may put some downward pressure on hog prices, he says. The economist adds that supplies of red meats other than pork are not expected to be much different from last year.

But there are indications, he says, that hog producers may be halting the downsizing in production. Producers on Sept. 1, 1965, reported they intended to farrow the same number of sows during the December 1965-February 1966 period as a year earlier. In recent months, sow slaughter has dropped 25 per cent.

Hog prices in the last half of 1965 will depend upon how quickly the apparent expansion develops and how large it will be. It is an increase is only moderate in the late spring of 1966 over 1965 farrowings, then late 1966 production would be light, he says. Prices would likely decline to slightly below levels of the fall of 1965.

Based on past production cycles, there is real danger of over-expansion and low prices in 1967. If producers increase farrowings

Foodwise, 1966 Will Get Off Bountifully

COLLEGE STATION

The year 1966, foodwise, will get off to a bountiful start.

Eleven foods are designated especially plentiful for the month of January. Pecans are featured. Others include grapes, grapefruit, apples, red tart cherries, oranges and orange products for mighty delicious fruit eating, reports the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture also reports plentiful stocks of such vegetables as onions, potatoes, sweet potatoes, cabbage and split peas.

The 1965 pecan estimate has been moved up to 263.8 million pounds, better than 90 million pounds more than 1964. Farm sales of native peaches in mid-December were running about 4 to 6 cents a pound less than for the same period during 1964, so add special flavor to your favorite dishes with pecans.

California's record grape crop totaling around 3.9 million tons will be sending large quantities into local markets this January. Emperors are expected to be in best supply.

Production of potatoes is up 25 per cent over the 1964 fall crop—creating the largest on record. And USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service reports heavy shipments of sweet potatoes arriving at local markets.

For some of the best in eating this January—and at reasonable cost—enjoy and use plentiful foods.

Notes

Conservation contracting is big business in Texas. Each year contractors spend over eighty million dollars for equipment and many other millions on maintenance, labor and supplies.

Conservation contracting is also one of the most vital of all industries to the welfare of the nation. Too often the contribution made by contractors to soil and water conservation and the economy of the community is taken for granted, but in Milam County this industry is very important to the local economy and is even more vital to the economical application of practices that are used to conserve our natural resources.

The local conservation contractors cooperate with farmers, Soil & Water Conservation Districts, A.C.F. Committees, A.S.C.S. fieldmen, S&WCS technicians and others to apply such practices as land clearing, waterway shaping, terracing, pond construction, critical area shaping, land leveling and other conservation practices to the land.

Over $250,000 was spent on these practices alone in the 1965 fiscal year in Milam County. This is an industry that is recognized and appreciated for its contribution to the local economy, as well as its contribution to the conservation and beautification of our natural resources.

Chilton Celebrates Texas'
First Rural Sewer Project

CHILTON

Approval of Texas' first rural community sewer project financed by the U. S. Farmers Home Administration was celebrated in Chilton Monday afternoon, Jan. 3, with a meeting attended by Congressman W. R. Poage and national Farmers Home Administrator Howard Bertsch.

Robert A. Goelzer, Chilton postmaster and president of a community non-profit corporation formed to operate the system, announced that the public meeting will be held "to thank Congressman Poage and the government for their help" in obtaining a $152,000 loan and grant authorized last week.

The Congressman and Bertsch, and State FHA Director Lester J. Cappleman of Temple, will join in addressing the meeting of Chilton citizens and representatives of other rural communities, county governments and FHA offices in Falls and surrounding counties. The meeting will be held at 3 p.m. in the Chilton High School gymnasium with Goelzer presiding. A reception will follow.

The Chilton sewer system will be built with a bank financed $79,000 FHA-insured loan and a $73,000 grant from the Farmers Home Administration.

It is the first project in the nation to be approved under legislation sponsored by Congressman Poage, passed this year, for Farmers Home Administration insured loan and grant financing of both sewer and water systems in rural communities up to 5,500 population.

Farmers, Ranchers Income
Tax Filing Deadline Jan. 17

Farmers and ranchers are reminded today that Monday, January 17, is the last day for filing their estimated federal income tax returns for 1965, unless they plan filing their final return on or before February 15.

A. P. Andrews, administrative officer of Internal Revenue Service in Temple, Texas, explained that those farmers and ranchers who file an estimated return on

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Dead Letter Laws

Over a period of 42 years, the crime committed most often in Washington, D. C., was selling ice cream cones.

It seems that in 1921, as a health measure, the sale of ice cream in less-than-pint containers was forbidden. Yet, through the years, millions of less-than-pint cones were sold in brazen defiance of the law. They were licked in plain sight by residents, tourists, Congressmen, perhaps even Supreme Court justices. Not until 1963 did Congress finally end the scandal by repealing this obsolete law.

In Elko, Nev., crime ran even more rampant. A 1918 ordinance, passed during the great flu epidemic, required everybody to wear a flu mask in public places. Not until 1964 did the city council let people breathe easier by revoking the ordinance.

Hundreds of such laws remain on the books in various communities around the country. How does this happen?

The reason is simple: there is for more incentive to put a law on the books than to take it off. As the original stimulus for a law fades away, people gradually lose interest in it. No one obeys, no one complains, no one prosecutes.

Yet these dead letter laws may do real harm. For one thing, they may breed disrespect for law itself.

For another thing, they may give law enforcement officials too much leeway. If not probable, it is at least possible that a person might suddenly be prosecuted for doing something which he has been doing, in all innocence, for years.

Accordingly, as part of a broad drive to modernize criminal law, bar associations and other attorney organizations are trying to clean out these legal anachronisms.

It is not an easy job. Some laws are plainly useless. But others, while rarely invoked, may still have a useful deterrent effect. Still others might represent a kind of gentleman's agreement whereby the community salutes a moral standard in principle while ignoring it in practice.

But it is a job well worth doing. No law should remain on the books for no better reason than that it has been forgotten.

SELF ANALYSIS QUIZ

Do You Make A Good First Impression?

by Jane Sherrod Singer

The impression you first make on someone you meet is often a lasting one and very difficult to change. Indeed, there are times when, if the initial introduction is not satisfactory, there is never another chance. Here are some keys. How many do you have on your chain in order to unlock the doors to acceptance and friendships?

- | | YES | NO |
|---|-----|-----|
| 1. Do you smile readily and often? | () | () |
| 2. Are you neatly (not necessarily expensive) groomed at all times? | () | () |
| 3. Do you have a firm handshake rather than offering what feels like a dead fish? | () | () |
| 4. Is your posture naturally straight, shoulders back, head high? | () | () |
| 5. When talking to a person do you look into his or her eyes? | () | () |
| 6. Do you speak clearly and audibly instead of mumbling? | () | () |
| 7. Do you show special respect, by standing, opening doors, etc., for people who are older than you? | () | () |
| 8. Can you stand still instead of shuffling your feet? | () | () |
| 9. Do you keep your hands away from your hair and face? | () | () |
| 10. Are your actions free from nervous mannerisms, such as chewing on something, biting your nails, clearing your throat, scratching, giggling, etc.? | () | () |
| 11. When a person is talking, do you give him or her your undivided attention? | () | () |
| 12. Are you genuinely interested in other people? | () | () |
| 13. Do you have a number of interests or hobbies? | () | () |
| 14. Is your language free from flagrant errors, profanity and an over-use of slang? | () | () |
| 15. Is it habitual for you to use courteous expressions, such as "please," "thank you," "I beg your pardon," etc.? | () | () |

SCORING: Give yourself 2 points for each yes answer.

ANALYSIS: This is a difficult quiz to score, for a no on any one of these questions might discourage certain very critical people. In general, however, we have found the following analysis to be true:

25 to 30 points: You make a very good impression, one that encourages people to want to know you better. It is not difficult for you to land a job and, if you have the necessary qualifications, you'll keep it. Your associates admire you.

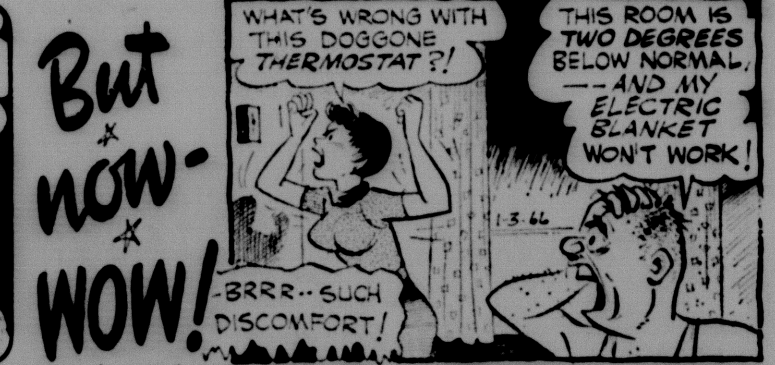

12 to 24 points: Like many of us, you are no paragon of graciousness. People tend to brush past you in their first meeting, and you have to prove your worth in their eyes. A little more polish would help you a great deal.

0 to 10 points: You are licked before you start and are indeed masterful in driving people AWAY from you. Since all these points have nothing to do with how beautiful or handsome you are and do not require a million dollars in your pocket, you can help yourself by practicing good manners and self-confidence.
